

The Great Falls Grange: 9818 Georgetown Pike (Route 193). This classic public assembly hall, a product of the Grange Movement, was completed in 1929. Directions: A. If coming from I-495 (Beltway), exit at Virginia Exit 44 (formerly exit 13) onto Route 193, Georgetown Pike; proceed west toward Great Falls, VA. (If coming on I-495 from Maryland, you must exit onto a right service lane just after the Potomac River bridge.) Travel west on winding Rt. 193 toward Great Falls for 6.2 miles to the red-brick Grange on the right, next to the public library and just prior to the Village shopping center. B. If approaching from the west on Rt. 7, turn eastward onto Rt. 193 at Dranesville and go 3.1 miles east to Great Falls Village and continue 0.2 mile to the Grange on the left. Park in lots and spaces for the Grange only.

The Pohick Episcopal Church: 9301 Richmond Highway (U.S. Rt. 1). The Church was built from 1767 to 1774, and the site and building plans were selected by vestryman George Washington. The churchyard contains graves of early Americans including Revolutionary War soldiers. We'll sing in the acoustically lively Common Room of the Parish Hall next to the historic church, which will be open for sightseeing.

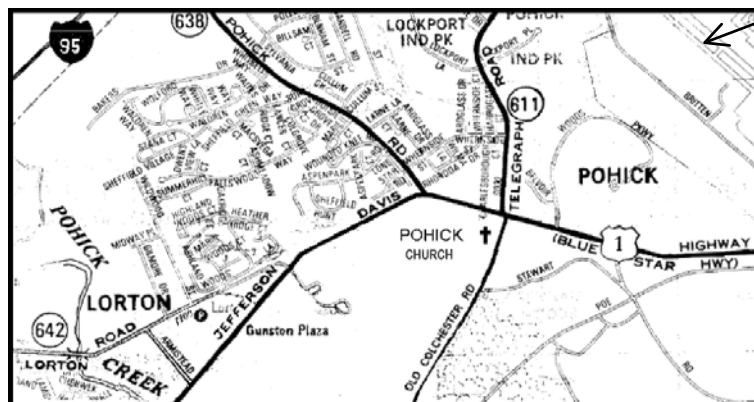

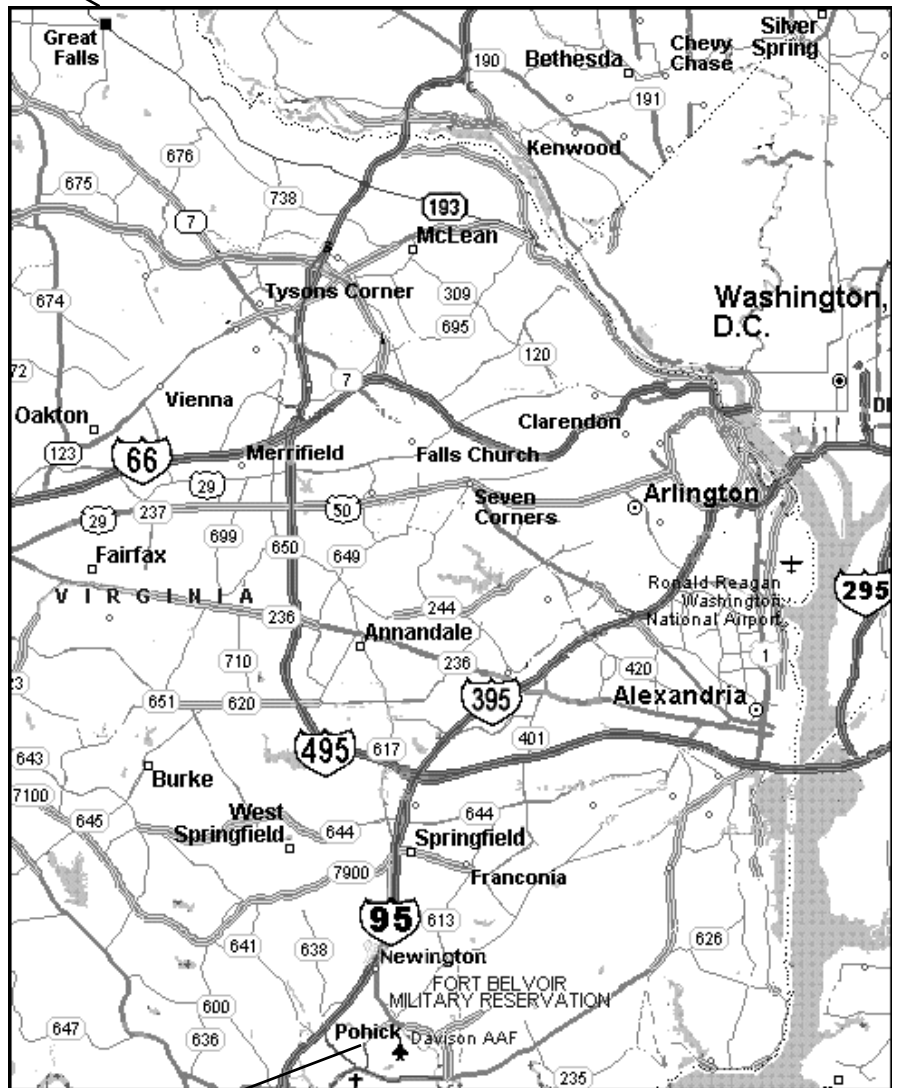

Driving: From Rt. I-95 south of the Beltway (I-495), take Exit 163(Rt. 642) towards Lorton; go one mile to U.S. Rt. 1 (follow signs). Turn left on Rt. 1 and go for one mile to Pohick Church, which is on the right. Look for a historic plaque.

Taking this route from points north will be complicated by the construction at the I95/I-495 Springfield interchange; the alternate route may be less congested, especially on Friday evening.

Parking: There are two church parking lots — one just off Old Colchester Road and one accessible from Richmond Highway. No public transportation on weekends.

Traffic: Please try to arrive in the Washington area earlier than 5 PM in order to get to the New Traditions singing on time.

The site of the Saturday social is the home of Tom and Cathy Tucker, about 4.5 miles north of Pohick via Telegraph Rd. A map and directions will be provided at the convention.
